Overview

To women, gifts are taken much more seriously than they are by men. Women view gifts as more than just physical things, they view them as expressions of emotion: love, caring, respect and a whole slew of other things depending upon the situation and the people.

Guys, forget that lesson at your own peril.

Ever wonder how some guys always seem to get just the right gift for the women in their life? It isn't magic; they just understand these simple facts...

Make sure the gift you give is:

- Something the person wants – to do this you need to actually understand not just what she wants but why she wants certain things at certain times and not at other times. The same gift might be wonderful in one situation and disastrously wrong in another situation.
- Matches her. That is, it must match her taste, her style, her preferences, her décor, her wardrobe, her mood, her job/career, her lifestyle, her, well, her everything.
- Appropriate to the situation. Don't get her a practical gift when a romantic one is called for and, whatever you do, don't get her tight, sexy jeans when she feels fat
- Double the impact. When you get many gifts you can double the impact of the gift with just a little more effort. For example, if you bring her flowers also get her one or two fancy chocolates (like those individual Lindt truffles) or if you get her a new kitchen gadget wrap a silk scarf around it. Always, and I mean ALWAYS, look for a chance to double the impact.

Every gift, and every step of the gift giving process, is important to how she will feel and how she will react and how she will treat you.

I know it sounds complex and difficult and incomprehensible.

It is, but this guide will help you understand her better and that will take the stress out of shopping and make you a gift giver that is so impressive that it will make all her friends and family envious and it will bring her closer to you than you can imagine.

Now, before you do anything else you need to figure out who the Allies are.

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

The Allies are her close friends and relatives, like her sister or even her mother, who know and understand her moods, tastes and styles and who can help you every time you need a gift.

Just make sure they actually like you and think you're "good for her" or they will steer you wrong, if for no other reason than to prove they were right.

Not only can they be very helpful in picking out the actual gift they'll put in a good word for you – sometimes it really is who you know!

The 5 Essential Rules for Giving Gifts to Women

There are a few simple, but essential, rules to follow when giving gifts to women.

Other than remembering that it is extremely important to understand her, as we talked about in the previous chapter, just make sure you follow rules and it'll all turn out good.

Rule 1: Always Be Thinking "How Can I Pamper Her?"

Whatever your relationship with the woman is, from your kid sister to your mother to your secretary to the love of your life who blows your mind every night, there is a 99% chance she loves to be pampered 100% of the time.

Bath & body gift baskets and gift certificates for salons and spas will be greatly appreciated by most women.

If she's on her feet most of the day, consider a gift certificate for a pedicure or foot massage.

Body massages are great for mental stress, back pain, headaches and muscle tension.

Teenaged girls may enjoy a custom makeup application, facial or hair treatment.

Being pampered makes every woman feel great and when she feels great you will too.

Rule 2: Always Give the Best Quality You Can Afford

Nobody likes a cheap gift and nobody, except maybe a 5 year old, likes a LOT of cheap gifts.

If you're just giving her a cute little "I was thinking of you" thing that you saw and it has some special meaning to her or to your relationship then go right ahead and get her that cheap trinket; assuming you know she is the type of person that will appreciate it.

Otherwise, one really thoughtful and personal gift of good quality will make a much better impression and have her sighing happily when she thinks of you.

Just remember, to a woman, one bottle of high quality wine is preferable to a case of cheap beer.

Rule 3: Don't Procrastinate

Unless it is an impromptu gift like picking up flowers, candles and some massage oil on the way home from work, do NOT wait until the last minute to do your shopping for her gift.

Not only is it stressful for you but it means you won't be able to get the right gift for the right situation.

You won't have time to properly plan and think through what is her heart's desire (which is what makes the perfect gift) and, ultimately, she'll know you waited until the last minute; yes, she will, somehow she'll just know.

As handy as it seems to you at the time (I know, you are "so busy"), it will make her feel unimportant to you, this will hurt her greatly which I am sure you don't want to do.

Plus, when you shop early, you have time to talk to the Allies and you can take advantage of any sales.

Rule 4: Wrap the Damn Thing

It may seem unnecessary to you but, to a woman, wrapping gifts shows you put some added time and effort into the getting the gift.

To women, the actual presentation is important (remember how nice she makes things for you and others, even just how nice dinner looks), and wrapping a gift in elegant paper with a bow only adds to its appeal to her (it means you care and took the time to "do it right".)

Just handing her an unwrapped gift even if it is in the store bag means to her that you didn't take the time and that means she isn't as important as she wants to be. Even if that is incorrect that will be her perception and, as they say, "perception is reality."

It's also probably a signal that the gift was just recently purchased, breaking rule 3.

If you can, wrap it yourself because women like it better when they know you made the effort to wrap a gift, but professional wrapping is better than none at all.

So, if you need to, then just take your gifts to the wrapping station in the store or in the mall. It will make a lot of difference to her and isn't that the point.

Plus, for her, unwrapping a gift increases the excitement and surprise, making it a much better experience for her and, I'll say it again, isn't that the point of the gift, to make it good for her.

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

Rule 5: Be Sure to Get and Keep a Gift Receipt

Whenever you buy a gift, particularly for a woman, always get a gift receipt.

This receipt gives information about the purchase and let's someone return it without revealing the price, at least until they return it.

Particularly, with girlfriends and wives, you may not want her to know how much you spent on her – this can be important in some situations.

Just make sure you to include the gift receipt and, oh yeah, don't forget to remove the price tag!

23 Gifts Every Woman Will Love

Whatever the occasion might be, from Valentine's Day, to Mother's Day, to a birthday, to an anniversary, to Christmas or just because you want to, guys struggle with what to buy the women in their lives.

Think about it, you wouldn't be reading this if you didn't struggle!

But, now that you understand how you must approach shopping for a gift for a woman you'll need some general ideas of the types of things to get.

Just match the ideas below with the woman and the situation and you'll end up a star!

Before we get to the ideas themselves there is one more thing I want to point out. It's more about knowing the woman.

How Her Personality Affects What You Give Her

One of the most important things to remember when getting that perfect gift is the type of gift should be suited to her personality.

Let's look at some personality types and see how that impacts what you give.

For Active Women

If the woman likes to be active then just give her something that gets her out and active.

Gift vouchers are very popular and can be gotten for a wide variety of activities.

Does she want to climb a mountain, swim with dolphins (or sharks), play tennis with a tour player, play with a tiger cub or ride on an elephant?

All those, and much more, are readily available.

How about Skydiving? Sure.

White Water Rafting? No Prob.

Driving a race car? Absolutely.

Just about anything you can think of you can find get a gift voucher for.

For Homebodies

Some women are home bodies and love their home and making it nice.

For this type of woman numerous choices also abound.

Some ideas include:

- Hand-crafted Art Work: or anything else that enhances her décor
- Kitchen Appliances: make sure these are something she uses or would use
- Kitchen Gadgets: particularly ones that do unusual things or make her life easier
- Home improvements: think about how much she'd like that new whirlpool bath or a remodeled office/sewing room

Look around her house and listen to what she says. It shouldn't be hard to find lots of things she'd like.

For the Party Gal

Is the woman a real partier? Does she like clubs and dancing all night? Is she a "see and be seen" maven?

Then skip the tiger cub and cappuccino machine and go with party clothes, jewelry (not necessarily the expensive stuff), shoes, bags, cosmetics, accessories and lingerie.

But, guys, there is danger lurking here. Do you really understand what she likes and what her sizes are?

If not, think gift certificate to her favorite stores and boutiques. If you really want to make it special for her then go with her on her shopping trip. But participate, don't disappear.

And, if this is a romantic partner, a LOT of fun can be had by going into the dressing room with her; need I say more!

For the Sophisticate and Socialite

For these women, money really does talk.

Whether it is hand bags, ball dresses, lounge wear or even a collar for her poodle, the classier, more expensive and exclusive it is, the better.

Of course, jewelry is a must, the sparklier the better, although this woman will prefer understated elegance more than gaudy opulence.

Think Gucci, Prada, Tiffany etc.

Other good gifts are trendy spas, first class vacations, skiing trips (although she may not ski much), and anywhere else she can be seen by all the “right people.”

For a romantic gift, options include a gourmet champagne brunch in a hot air balloon, a romantic cruise, watching the sunset on the ocean in Nice or Monte Carlo or whatever your wallet will allow.

When in Doubt

If you don't know what else to do get her a gift hamper and flowers.

With the large selection of choices you should be able to find something for every woman.

Flowers are also always a winner and with there being so many online florists now, it is simple to make the correct choice and have a surprise delivery.

And here we have a double the impact opportunity, get a gift hamper and flowers!

When it comes to shopping for a woman, here are some traditional, and safe, gift ideas on which you can rely.

No matter if you're shopping for your wife, girlfriend, sister, mother, grandmother, daughter or friend these gift ideas are sure to lead you to the perfect gift in no time at all.

Gift 1: Body Products

Most women love all the various body products available – lotions, bath salts, moisturizers, creams, etc; it makes them feel and smell better.

The more sweet smelling or “tasty” the name is the better they like it.

Look for products that have flowers or spices in their name or ones that sound like a tasty food; of course, you could just look at what she already has and take your clues from their.

Gift 2: Cashmere or Silk

It is pretty hard to go wrong with something that feels nice on the skin; both silk and cashmere feel wonderful.

They can be expensive but, if budget is an issue, smaller items like hats, scarves, gloves or even socks can be affordable.

Remember Rule 2 above; always get the best quality you can afford. Better a high end silk scarf than a cheap cotton sweater.

Gift 3: Cell Phones

If the woman likes to be connected then a new, stylish, colorful cellular phone may be just the thing.

Make sure it has a camera and texting capabilities. Other nice-to-haves are e-mail access, automatic upload of photographs and Bluetooth capabilities.

If she is into color, then get it in neon colors like orange, green, red or even pink for those “girly-girls”.

Otherwise stick to classic black or silver.

Gift 4: Chocolate

Is there a woman alive who doesn't love chocolate?

Just remember Rule 2 and get the fancy kind like Lindt or Godiva or others like that.

Do NOT get a cheap Whitman's Sampler or Russell Stover box unless you absolutely know, from 4 independent sources, that she likes those brands.

They scream cheap and “I didn't want to make any effort.”

If you don't know the type she likes: nut, creamy, truffles, gooey then go with a variety pack, otherwise get what she likes.

She'll be appreciative it either way but won't be happy when she throws away those caramel centered ones she can't stand.

Gift 5: Clothing

Most women love to shop, probably something to do with the maternal instinct and the gathering part of “hunting and gathering”

Anyway, one thing they particularly like to shop for is clothes.

There doesn't seem to be an end to the number of dresses and singlets and lacy underwear and shoes a woman wants to have.

This, happily, makes clothes a great gift.

Remember though my warning above about the dangers of getting the wrong thing or the wrong size.

Bad, very bad.

Gift certificates are safe but they don't bring that look a woman has in her eye when she opens a box and it has the most beautiful silk blouse or the cutest summer dress or that sexy lingerie.

So, unless you are a rare man, when you go shopping for clothes take along one or more Allies.

And, you should make the effort to buy clothes for her; because a man who can actually buy clothes that a woman would actually want, in the sizes she actually wears is a rare gem and will be treasured as such.

Gift 6: Computers

If you've got the cash, and you want to make a splash with a technology-minded woman, then spoil her with a new laptop.

Stylish, but pricy, choices are from Apple and Sony. Dell provides good computers and they're good looking as well; some even come in different colors.

Gift 7: Cosmetics

Like clothing, cosmetics are a dangerous thing to shop for, not as dangerous but definitely dangerous.

Fortunately, just look at, and write down, the exact manufacturer and name and style of what she already uses (I even write down the size, color and style of the bottle or tube or container – you'd be surprised how many times that is helpful).

Then go into a store and find the EXACT same thing.

If you can't find it, go into a store like Macy's or others that have cosmetic counters where there are those people are trying to get women to accept a spritz of perfume or sit down in those high chairs and try on some type of makeup.

Tell them what she uses and they will either be able to match it or tell you something that is as good or better.

Don't do this in a drug store or a K-mart and just ask whoever is behind the counter. The better stores hire experienced people and train their people to know about cosmetics, the other stores don't.

As a last gasp measure get something from a company like Estée Lauder or Chanel or even Clinique. Most women like their products but a bit of a warning, they can be pretty expensive (I mean, for the cost of a baseball ticket where you can actually see the player you'll get something so small you could hold a half dozen of them in one hand).

One good thing about some of those higher end products is they frequently have promotional gifts when you purchase one of their products.

Usually they are little cosmetic bags filled with some of their cosmetics which she will appreciate.

Gift 8: DVDs

DVD's are great for any woman of any age.

Stick to classic movies of the type they like. Romantic comedies and "chick flicks" are good but some women like drama and even horror.

Just make sure you get something to her taste.

Another thing that works very well with my wife is getting a season (or all seasons in my case) of a TV show she likes (this could be old or new for example, my wife loves Buffy the Vampire Slayer from when she was young, West Wing and her latest favorite is Heroes).

A double the impact opportunity exists by you watching it with her.

Gift 9: Electronics

Everyone always talks about guys liking electronics but you'll be surprised at how good a gift this is for many women,

I told you already about computers and cellular telephones but, in addition, iPods, portable DVD players, digital cameras, and even CD players are all popular with women.

Many younger women and teenaged girls also like video game players like Wii and Xbox.

Gift 10: Flowers

This is an old standby but it still is an "oldie but goodie."

Most women still love getting flowers for any occasion, particularly "just because I love you."

They especially make a great gift for wives, girlfriends and mothers and are a wonderful way to show how much you appreciate someone.

Find out her favorites and be sure and get those.

If you don't know what she likes then roses and orchids are excellent choices although just about any type of flowers are good – just make sure you don't get ones that she is allergic too!

Gift 11: Gift Baskets

One of the easiest and best gifts to get is a gift basket.

The choices are truly mind boggling and no matter what she likes you'll be able to get a gift basket that is perfect for her.

Gift baskets range from cooking and barbecue gift baskets to sportsperson's gift baskets to "motorcycle mama" gift baskets to lingerie gift baskets to even just "look beautiful" gift baskets.

A gift basket is a great option, because not only does she get a pretty basket attractively arranged, but she gets a lot of nice gifts that she can use over time (and she'll remember you each time you use them!)

Some popular gift baskets for women are:

- Bath and Spa Gift Set
- Teddy Bears
- Gourmet Food and Fruit Baskets
- Gourmet Desserts
- Chocolates
- Jewelry
- Wine and Cheese
- Coffee and Tea

And, since gift baskets, allow you to give her a little bit of everything, they make excellent for those demanding people on your gift list.

A double your impact opportunity is to give some flowers along with the gift basket she will really love it and you!

Gift 12: Greeting Cards

Giving her a card is always a great way to show that you've been thinking about her.

Sure, it's not much but it really will make her feel appreciated and loved so don't miss any chance you have to give her a card!

If you want to double the impact give a card and a small gift like a small box of Godiva chocolates or a gold bangle bracelet or movie tickets to the new hot movie she's dying to see.

Don't be afraid to be creative!

Gift 13: Hand bags

Next to shoes and maybe clothes, woman love hand bags (or purses as they used to be called).

The advantage they have over clothes and shoes is that the size isn't as important.

But, don't just pick up any hand bag, even if it expensive.

If it doesn't go with anything she already has, one of two things will happen, she'll be unhappy (and maybe take it back) or she will be very happy (because it means she'll need a new dress and shoes to go with it).

This also might be a good time to bring an Ally to help you.

However, as always, you can't go wrong with quality so get a Prada, Jimmy Choo, Gucci or Louis Vuitton if you don't know what else to get.

A note of warning, these can be very expensive so check the price early on. A paradox of hand bags is that frequently the smaller they are the more expensive they are.

For a more playful look or for a fun or artistic type of woman get something in vibrant, neon colors, otherwise stick with the safe brown, black or white.

Gift 14: Jewelry

Like flowers, jewelry is an old standby that most women love getting.

One of the most popular and versatile pieces of jewelry is the pendant.

If you don't know what a pendant is then you're not alone. You've seen the things but probably didn't know they were called pendants.

A pendant is a chain, usually silver or gold, with something hanging from it.

What makes this so great is that lots of different things, fashioned in lots of different shapes, in lots of different sizes can hang from the chain. You can find pendants with: gems, locket, pearls, gold and silver, rings, and more – even watches!

They can be shaped into hearts, flowers, balls, butterflies and other insects, crosses, circles, animals (like birds or dolphins or bears), symbols – basically anything.

All this means that is it very easy to find a pendant she will like.

Other very popular jewelry pieces that are sure to please are rings and earrings (or pieces for other piercings).

Just notice what types of things she always wears or things she mentions she likes and go from there.

When in doubt, enlist the help of some of the Allies.

For help in knowing how to pick out quality jewelry get “A Guys Guide to Jewelry for Her”, it provides a good explanation to how to pick out jewelry.

Just remember, stick with pendants, rings and earrings, with an occasional necklace (simple chain or more decorative) and bracelet thrown in and she will always be very happy with it (and you).

Gift 15: Kitchen Accessories

This isn't a gift all women will appreciate and it isn't good for all situations but, for women that enjoy cooking and baking, small kitchen appliances and gadgets can make an excellent gift.

For example, my mother loves getting all the various weird, specialized kitchen gadgets. I don't even have any idea what most of them are and she rarely, if ever, uses them but she loves getting them and having them.

If you don't understand why, think of it like wanting lots of different tools for your workshop. You don't really need or use most of them but you like having them there “just in case.”

Anyway, like you with the tools, basically it comes down to wanting items that help make various tasks easier.

So whether it is the plate that cooks the food right in it, the electric fruit and vegetable peeler or the spoon that both measures and weighs at the same time, kitchen accessories can make an interesting gift that are much appreciated by the right women.

Gift 16: Lingerie

Nice lingerie can be a great gift for both of you.

It makes her look and feel good and you know, if it make her look good you will feel good!

I won't say more here, look below at the lingerie section for more information.

Gift 17: Lounge Wear

Most women prefer to wear something more casual and comfortable at home.

Whether it is after a hard day at work or an outing with children or friends, most women just want to relax and wear something comfortable.

The thing to remember though is that being comfortable doesn't mean old and ratty, she still wants to look good after all.

Think a stylish exercise outfit but not the tight spandex type more the cotton, velour or nylon type that fits well but doesn't restrict movement of bind – nice looking sweats and a comfortable (but attractive) singlet is a favorite of my wife.

Being clothes, make sure you either study what she does have and listen to what she says, or consult the Allies.

Gift 18: Music

Music can be a great gift for a woman.

This is more from the "it means you really know her" than from the actual music but whatever the reason, she will really appreciate a gift of music.

But, you must get something she likes or it will backfire on you. This is because music is very personal to a woman and if you get the right thing she is sure you know her inner self whereas if you don't, she will feel very insulted.

Look at what CDs she has and try to understand why she has them.

Pay attention to what she listens to in each of her moods.

Ask the Allies.

Also, if you buy her an iPod or CD player then be sure to preload it with her favorite music or get her a couple of CDs she'll really like; this is a double the impact opportunity.

Gift 19: Pearls and Diamonds

Yeah, I know I already talked about jewelry but pearls and diamonds are special cases.

Pearls

Pearls, be they in rings, necklaces, earrings or bracelets, can be worn with anything from a kid's play date to a formal ball.

They are the original and ultimate classy and classic gift.

If you can't get, or afford, real pearls you must get cultured pearls preferably those graded AA+ or AAA; do NOT get imitation pearls unless you want one mad and disappointed woman.

Diamonds

Diamonds, on the other hand, are the original seducer.

Apart from their tremendous beauty, diamonds make a girl look and feel glamorous and diamonds get attention and women just love them for that.

The elegance of a diamond helps make them very classy as well as very feminine. When worn them on special occasions they can help a woman instantly grab the spotlight.

Certain diamonds can symbolize commitment and give a woman fulfillment. Having and wearing diamonds is many a young girl's dream more for what it symbolizes than anything else.

A woman who receives a diamond gift becomes, in her eyes and the eyes of other women, a prized person. It's a man's way of saying, "you're quite exceptional and I want you and the rest of the world to know it."

Gift 20: Photos

Women love photos for multiple reasons.

They are memories relived. Just look at the range of emotions in a woman's eyes when she looks at a picture; they range from wistful to a playful glint.

They are bragging rights. What mother or grandmother doesn't like whipping out a picture of the kids and grandkids?

They are connections. What woman's heart doesn't flutter even momentarily when they see a picture of a cherished loved one whether that is her child, her parents, her siblings or her true love?

Photographs are important to women and if a woman is important to you then giving her photographs can be a great gift.

A double the impact opportunity is to gather pictures into a portable photo book and give that as a gift.

It gives them the pictures and makes it easy for them to always carry them around to look at them or to show them to others.

Gift 21: Scents: Candles, Potpourri and More

Women absolutely love scents.

One of the best ways to give that to her is scented candles.

Not only do they have an aroma but they also create atmosphere; that can be romantic, soothing, eerie or sexy. Whatever mood she wants, scented candles can help.

They also come in a dizzying array of sizes, scents and colors and, best of all, you can pretty much find them everywhere; even the local grocery store carries them.

To a lesser degree, things like potpourri and incense can also make good small gifts but candles are the undisputed champion.

Gift 22: Sheepskin

There is something about the comfort and warmth of sheepskin that has tremendous appeal and that women just love to cozy up to it.

So, for a small cold weather gift, anything (boots, slippers, gloves, etc.) lined in sheepskin is a winner.

Gift 23: Wrist Watches

If you're thinking "a watch, that doesn't sound like a good gift" you are so wrong.

A watch can be is a great gift.

A watch is a fashion accessory and can make a fashion statement, it is a true expression of one's personality. A woman can tell a lot about another woman just by the watch she's wearing.

A watch is highly practical for the career woman and for the stay-at-home mom, both of them have a lot of activities to coordinate and attend and a watch is a godsend.

Plus, for some women, just knowing the time or being able to check it whenever they want is psychologically satisfying and calming.

If you are now thinking "but she already has a watch" you are so wrong again.

Go back and read the "a watch is a fashion accessory" paragraph.

A woman needs at least 2 watches, one for every day use and one "fancy" one.

Other watches a woman may desire are:

- The "I am a serious businesswoman" watch for the office
- The "I am just at home or running errands or with the kids and I don't want to damage my other watches" watch
- The "I am out with friends and want to express myself" watch. This may actually be more than one watch as she goes out to different places for different reasons.
- The "sports" watch for use while running, playing tennis or at the gym
- The "I am a mountain guide" watch for when she is out hiking and camping
- The "formal, you better notice me" watch for formal, fancy or other "important" events like weddings, balls and premieres

And, believe me, that just touches the surface of the possible watches a woman might want; and wanting more than one watch in each category is a definite possibility.

So, when thinking of getting a watch as a gift, get one that she doesn't have. Do not, unless explicitly asked, try to replace a watch she does have.

45 Unique (and Not So Unique) Gift Ideas for Women

Here is a list of 45 specific ideas that you can use for the right woman at the right time.

There should be something for every woman on this list so it will save you lots of time while saving your behind by making sure you get the right gift.

1. Bookmark of Love. Take those photographic strips that you get with school and other pictures or in those booths in the mall and write a personal or inspirational statement on the back and have it laminated.

Punch a hole in the top, add a pretty ribbon or colorful yarn and you've got a simple gift that a woman will cherish and remember every time she opens her book.

2. "Brighten Up the Kitchen" Basket. Put together a basket of items that will liven up her kitchen. Put in nice new dish and hand towels, a colorful tablecloth, a pretty new fruit bowl, matching appliance covers, even new food canisters to replace the worn, chipped ones she's had around for years. .

Just make sure it's all coordinated (ask the salesperson for help if you need to) and that the colors and style match her kitchen and her tastes.

3. Chocolate Party. For the chocoholic woman in your life, give her a chocolate party. Make it all about and with chocolate... chocolate gifts (food, cookbooks, etc.) chocolate (edible) decorations, chocolate (or chocolate covered) food; the works.
4. Coffee Lovers Basket. For the serious coffee lover, get a nice basket and fill it with flavored coffees and creamers, some "gourmet" coffees, some quick one-pot packages, a one-cup brewer, chocolate covered coffee beans, some really nice coffee mugs and all manner of things coffee related. You'd be surprised at what you can find.
5. Computer "Toolkit". For the computer user, put together a CD of handy tools and things. Find screensavers, games, wallpaper, and other useful computer tools. .

Put in family pictures, add recipes and articles about favorite hobbies and even links to useful resources like the local weather, the local traffic conditions Web site and any family member and friends personal Web sites. The possibilities are endless and there's a lot of room on one disk!

6. Coupon Books. Make or buy "coupon books" that say things like she is entitled to "A Day Off", "A Backrub", "Babysitting" or "A Picnic ", the options are limitless and you can buy preprinted ones, including some for the bedroom that you'll really like!

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

7. A Special Date Night. Have a special adult night out where you dress up, go to a place SHE really likes and do something SHE really wants to do. .

A double the impact opportunity is to call ahead to the restaurant and make reservations and ask them to have her favorite flowers on the table, her favorite wine ready and a special treat (appetizer, dessert, serenade – anything she would like and appreciate).

8. Driving Lessons. For that young teenaged girl in your life, a gift of driving lessons will show her that you understand and appreciate that she is maturing and becoming an adult and that you are supportive of her growth.
9. Family Recipe Book. Go to her mother, grandmother and friends and get the recipes for her favorite dishes. Type them into your computer and print them out in either book format or on stock recipe cards (which you can the put into a nice recipe box).
10. Fancy Night Out. You both get dressed up really nice and enjoy yourselves at the theater, opera, ballet or ball. Afterwards go have a late supper and share the experience and each other.
11. Flowers. It's pretty hard to go wrong with flowers and, really, does she get enough of them!

12. Foot Lotion. This is a secret desire for many women, it has scent and a nice feel and helps her skin and eases her tired feet and it is also has a double the impact opportunity because after you give it to her, offer to rub it into her feet while you give her a foot massage!

13. Gift Certificates. Since you can get a gift certificate to just about anything nowadays this is a great way to get her something unusual or let her splurge on her favorites. Here are some ideas:

- How about a gift certificate to a home improvement store to help her remodel that bathroom she always wanted to; double the impact opportunity, volunteer to help her with the work.
- Or how about a mall gift certificate so she can get that new outfit she's had her eye on or stock up on her favorite cosmetics; double the impact opportunity, offer to take care of the kids or to chauffeur her and carry her bags while she shops (you must be patient if you do that, let her shop however and however long she wants).

- Is she a musician? Get her a gift certificate to her favorite music store. Many times there isn't money for a lot of the little things because the larger, more important stuff, can be expensive.
- Is she a movie lover? Then a gift certificate to the local movie theater for a movie and snacks for her and a friend (or her and you!) will be very welcome. Or get a gift certificate for movie rentals so she can have a movie marathon.
- Maybe she's a gardener. Then a gift certificate to a local plant nursery may just make her giddy with pleasure.
- One thing you can do that won't cost money just time (which is usually more meaningful to her anyway), is to create handmade gift certificates. Offer to wash her car or stay with her instead of your normal "boys night out."

Just use your imagination but make sure it is something that she would like and would be special to her and not just something that will make more work for her in the end.

- Finally, there is the old standby of the spa for a massage and other pampering.

14. Gift Membership/Donation. Donate to her favorite cause. It might be buying a "brick" in her name for the new local library, a membership to the humane society, or Sierra Club or donate to a women's shelter or a museum or the local zoo or anything else she feels passionate about.

15. Gift Subscriptions. You can get subscriptions from many places. These provide periodic, usually monthly, gifts. .

Options include fresh fruit, flowers, panties, cookies, books, hot chocolate, CDs and DVDs, wine and beer, perfume and even baked bread. .

A double the impact opportunity would be to include either a sample with the subscription when you give it to her or something that complements the subscription like fancy corkscrew and wine glasses with a wine subscription or a really good cheese knife and board with a cheese subscription.

16. A Girl's Night Out. Give her special tickets and a paid dinner reservation to her favorite restaurant for her and her best friend. Make sure you talk to the friend first for tips on what tickets to get, what restaurant to make the paid reservation and to make sure she will be available!
17. Give the Gift of Taking. Does she have something that's been lying around cluttering up her place or is unsightly or just something she wants gone. Offer to remove it or have it hauled away for her.
18. Her Own Toolbox. Make up a toolbox of the essential tools for the modern woman. Put in a hammer, both Phillips and flat head screwdrivers, a tape measure, a level, some pliers (regular and needle-nose), some duct tape, a small container of glue, a "not spatula or paint scrapper" and a small supply of nails, screws, cup hooks ...

Remember though that women's hand tend to be smaller and the tend to be weaker so getting that 24oz framing hammer or a Sawzall won't be useful to her.

19. High Speed Internet Service. If there is a special woman in your life that loves the Internet but doesn't have high speed internet service, see if she'd like to sign up and have you pay for the installation and first month or three.

I did this for my mother and while she complained that she "didn't need it and wouldn't notice the difference", she wouldn't go back to dial-up now for anything (and she's become the Google queen).

20. A "Love Jar". Get or decorate a nice jar (candle jars usually work well) and put in 52 pieces of paper in it. On each one write or type a different and special message telling her about a memory you have and are grateful for. Wrap it up nicely (don't forget to include instructions!) and give it to her.

Then once a week she will take one out, read the message and feel really good about herself and you.

21. Makeover. Arrange to have a makeover for her. This can be simple and inexpensive or as elaborate as a complete professional makeover that includes hair, makeup and clothes.
22. A "Mini-vacation at Home". Make reservations at a local bed and breakfast and have them put some of her special favorites in the room – things like candles, scents, bubble bath, chocolates, wine, etc. This can be either a personal "retreat" for her or a romantic getaway for the both of you.

23. Monthly Celebrations. Instead of celebrating a birthday, anniversary or even a holiday every year make it a monthly thing. Each month get a card and a small gift – this could be a gift card or a CD or the new book by her favorite author or a paid movie rental or any small thing that shows you remember her and care for her.

This doesn't have to be expensive but be creative, one month give 5 $1 dollar bills and directions to the nearest $1 store or give her valet parking at the mall or ...

24. A More Organized Life. Make or get a calendar and mark the important days off – birthdays, anniversaries, school plays, even tax day and things like if she never misses the U.S. Open then that goes on the calendar.

Put in times, telephone numbers or addresses as applicable. Spice it up with funny, inspirational or romantic pictures and sayings.

25. A “Movie Night” Package. Get a six pack of her favorite beverage soda/juice/etc. – the ones with the plastic rings.

Remove the two middle ones and, on one side, put a bag of microwave popcorn and, on the other side, put her favorite movie candy. Add a favorite DVD (a new one, NOT one she already has) or a gift card from a movie rental place, add a ribbon and bow and a nice card.

MOVIES

26. Mushroom Kit. Does she love mushrooms? A mushroom growing kit can have fresh mushrooms available for her at all times. This is a really unique gift for a mushroom lover and, remember, the more specific a gift is to her the more she will appreciate it because it tells her that you went out of your way to know and understand her and to get something just for her.

27. Offer of help. Is there something your woman wants that just requires time? Does she need to unclutter a room or garage? Does she need help clearing part of her yard? Does she need a babysitter or someone to pick up or drop off the kids? Does she need help cleaning the 37 windows on her 2-story house? Or maybe she needs her kitchen really scrubbed down to a spotless shine.

Give her some of your time to help her accomplish some of the things she never gets around to but that bother her (and believe me they bother her).

28. Paper shredder. People are afraid to put their personal papers in the garbage nowadays. A shredder helps to get rid of those papers with peace of mind.

29. Personalized Stationary. By this I don't mean going to some stationary or office supply store and having her name printed on some stationary.

What you should do is find some nice paper and envelopes and customize them with your computer. Take a special photograph or scene and print it along with her name on the paper and envelopes you found; using your color printer. Then tie the loose sheets and envelopes with a pretty ribbon.

30. Photo Album. Earlier you learned how important photographs are to a woman. A well thought out and creative photo album will become a treasured possession, as will you!

Gather pictures from all the people she loves and gather them together into an album. These can be from childhood, graduations, vacations, her wedding or any other special time she's had.

Don't just put in photographs though, add items that remind her of special things, that drawing she did at 7 years old that her father always kept on his desk, that ticket to her first concert, or that drawing she made when she visited Paris.

You can also add favorite quotes, pictures of her favorite actors and anything else that will reach down and touch her heart and soul.

31. Portrait. Arrange for her loved ones to have a portrait of themselves taken, a group portrait is the best, and have it nicely framed and surprise her with it. Another option is to arrange to have a portrait of her with her loved ones and have it nicely framed.

32. "Pregnancy Massage". If you have a friend or family member who is well along in their pregnancy, sign them up for a pregnancy massage at a local spa. They will love you for it!

33. A Relaxation Basket. Get or have put together a nice basket. Include her favorite teas and a pretty little teapot, add her favorite chocolates. Other additions can include her favorite, but of so decadently expensive, cheese, her favorite wine, her favorite scented candles or perfume or bath oil or body cream. Anything that she loves.

34. Season tickets. Whether she is an avid baseball or hockey fan or loves the opera or the local theater company. Buy her a season ticket so she can enjoy the gift over and over – truly a gift that keeps on giving.

35. Sharp Knives. If you want a gift for a woman who loves cooking then arrange to have her kitchen knives sharpened. It isn't the most obviously romantic gift but she will appreciate your thoughtfulness and remember you every time she uses them. Don't do this for a woman who doesn't cook!

36. A Snack Basket. Get a pretty basket and fill it with snack bars, juice boxes, small cracker packages, microwavable soups, instant oatmeal cups, raisins and other fruit snacks and any other easy, convenience foods.

Then when she is tired or too busy to cook she can dip into the basket and have a nutritious and quick meal.

37. "Sorry I was Gone: Gift. If you have to go out of town without her, ALWAYS bring back something unique to the place you went to.

This can be anything from a jar of local honey or jam to a picture of the sunset from your hotel window or even just some unique coasters or napkins from a restaurant or bar.

Get her anything that says "I was thinking of you and want you to share even a small part of my trip."

38. A Spa Day. I know I have mentioned it before but it is so popular that it needs being said again.

39. Take your Mom on a "date". This is a special gift just for your mother. Whether it is for Mother's Day or, better still, not for Mother's day, take your mom out on a "date".

Go to dinner and a movie or a show but just make sure it is something she would like to do with you. Ask her friends, her sisters or your sisters if you aren't sure what to do. This will be a very special gift to her.

40. Taxi Vouchers. For an elderly woman or one who doesn't drive or for someone who lives in a city like New York City, give a gift of pre-paid taxi vouchers. It will be a luxury she will appreciate time and again.

41. Tickets. Another one that has been mentioned but get tickets to a museum event, a ball game, to a show (play, musical, comedian, etc.), to a concert, to an IMAX movie or anything she'd like.

A double the impact opportunity would be to offer to watch the kids or hire a chauffeured car to ferry her to and from the event.

42. Time for herself. So many women are really busy and don't take enough time for themselves. A present that helps relax her and allows her to be able to just enjoy a favorite activity (or non-activity) is always welcome. Some examples are:

- A gift certificate for her favorite bookstore or music shop where she can go and read or listen and just relax
- Tickets to an event – from a classical concert to a hockey game, get her tickets to something she'll really like!
- Pay for her to take a fun workshop or short course; maybe it's a one day flower arranging workshop, an art class, a short cooking class or a "how to write novel" class.

43. Vanity License Plate. Order a vanity license plate for her car, particularly if it is new.

44. You. This is gift that any woman in your life will appreciate; including your significant other, mother, daughter (except maybe a teenaged one!), sisters, other close female relatives or just good female friends. Do something she would like but that you can do together.

- Movie and dinner.
- Amusement Park
- Canoeing
- Special lunch or picnic
- Video game arcade.
- Zoo
- Skating
- A local theater production
- A ride in the country
- Hiking
- A day at the beach
- Miniature golf
- And the possibilities keep on coming...

Romantic Gifts

Getting romantic gifts for a woman can be supremely easy or extremely difficult; both at the same time!

However, like most everything else in life, a little bit of thinking, planning and logic can make even the seemingly impossible task of choosing a unique romantic gift for woman, possible.

Here are specific tips that will help make your romantic gift to her a big hit.

Diamonds Truly are a Woman's Best Friend

Diamonds are both a thing of beauty and intimacy and a joy to both the giver and receiver.

For millennia, women have been given diamonds, the world's rare beauties, as a token of, and compliment to, their strength, beauty, devotion and desirousness.

Diamonds entice and incite, they excite the senses and the soul. Is it any coincidence then that they are expensive? I think not.

Diamonds, therefore, are one of the few things as beautiful and exquisite as your woman, so the perfect gift is finding something that compliments and adds to her strength, beauty and allure.

Be sure, when you give it to her, that it is a surprise. Your reward is the look in her eyes that will be brighter than all the diamonds in the world.

Little Romantic Gifts

One way to be sure your gifts are treasured is to make sure it proclaims your love for her.

Little things like stuffed animals, cards, pictures and even the right coffee mug can be ideal gifts if well thought out with her in mind.

Intimate gifts also send the message very nicely.

It is surprising how even a box of chocolates or a couple of flowers can mean a lot to a woman.

Other little romantic gifts you can give to her are:

- Cuddle on the sofa and watch the movie of her choice
- Surprise her with some chocolates "for no reason"

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

- Take a candlelight bubble bath together
- Take a moonlit stroll on the beach
- Put a single red rose in her briefcase or in her windshield wiper
- Send her a romantic e-mail
- Create a "How We Met" book
- Make her a "Message in a Bottle" by putting a love poem, some rose petals, some candy hearts into a decorator bottle
- Send her a pantygram
- Surprise her with a bed of roses (you can buy a kit of silk rose petals)
- Get a Romantic Magnetic Poetry Kit and leave her a romantic message on her refrigerator
- Play Lovopoly with her
- Bring home some bath salts or oils, a soothing CD and a nice bottle of her favorite wine and run her bath, put on her music and pour her a glass of wine. Some candles and flowers would double the impact.

Experience Bonding

One way to improve closeness in a romantic relationship is to have a unique, shared experience.

There are lots of different choices and something for everyone's taste. For example, do any of these together:

- A Trip on the Orient Express
- Champagne Balloon Flight
- Driving a Tank
- Feeding Tigers
- Flying Lessons
- Going Behind the Scenes at the Races
- Helicopter Sightseeing Trips
- Learning How to Play Polo
- Learning How to Striptease
- Luxury Spa Breaks
- Makeovers
- Meeting Meerkats
- Participating in a Circus Act
- Powerboating
- Quad Biking
- Rally Driving
- Recording Your Own CD in a Music Studio
- Skydiving
- TV Presenting

Art Enthusiasts

Most women are very sensitive and they appreciate good art.

Giving her a beautiful work of art will definitely make her day. As always, make sure you get something she will like and appreciate, if you don't this gift, like any other will, at best, cause problems.

In addition, if you have any artistic or craftsmen talent whatsoever, then really you'll add the extra boost to the value of your gift if you create the gift with your own hands.

Even if it isn't great, the fact that you understand her tastes and desires and took the time to actually create something will always mean the gift remains a favorite of hers.

Play Dress Up

Get costumes and play "dress up". Let her choose the costumes and the scenario (do it right and you'll get your turn to choose!).

Here are some popular costumes to get you started:

- Angel
- Athlete
- Bride
- Cheerleader
- Executive
- Genie
- Groom
- Hero
- Jungle Man/Woman
- Maid
- Nurse
- Peasant Girl
- Pirate
- Policeman
- Princess
- Race Car Driver
- Robber
- Sailor
- Santa
- Schoolgirl
- Soldier

Don't Forget and Ruin It

With any gift you must remember that you need to know (or at least be able to find out) what she likes and what she doesn't.

You need to know what styles, what colors, what scents and flavors, what fabrics

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

and what flowers; the more you know about her and her preferences the better you'll do at getting the right gifts and the better your love life will be.

Also don't forget her life roles and her lifestyle. For example, a stay-at-home mom usually doesn't need a Blackberry and a professional woman may never use a 'World's Best Cook' apron.

Men's Guide to Specialized Gift Giving

Flowers

Women love receiving flowers, it makes them feel loved and special.

Giving a woman flowers always seem to bring out her feminine side and she'll be "floating on air" for many hours thinking about you and your gift.

Flowers are a wonderful way to express your feelings, but make sure you're saying the right thing. Make sure you give the right flowers for the right occasion.

Here are some general guidelines to help you make sure the flowers you send to a woman are properly appreciated.

First, consider what the gift is for. Does it merit sending a large bouquet, a small bouquet, a single flower or maybe an entire flowering plant?

For example, for a date a single rose sent before the date will set a good tone; a double the impact opportunity is to bring her a solitary matching rose to symbolize the two of you.

However, if the gift is for a housewarming present then a living plant is a better choice.

But, if the flowers are for your mother a nice bouquet of her favorite flowers in a nice vase is the way to go; if you don't know what her favorite flowers are then go with roses; those are usually the safest choices.

Don't forget the symbolism that different flowers have, here is a short list to help you out:

- Baby's Breath: Devotion
- Bamboo: Good Luck
- Calla Lily: Beauty
- Carnation: Devoted love
- Daisy: Romance and innocence
- Ivy: Fidelity
- Lily of the Valley: Happiness
- Orchid: Love and beauty
- Rose - Orange: Passion
- Rose - Pink: Secret love, grace and sweetness
- Rose - Red: Love
- Rose - White: Unity
- Rose - Yellow: Joy

- Stephanotis: Marital happiness
- Tulips: Love and passion
- Zinnia: Affection

A gift of flowers can, of course, be a romantic gesture.

Be sure to shop at a flower shop, not a grocery store or corner store. You will get the freshest flowers, the nicest arrangements and the greatest selection. Don't forget the rule about getting the best quality you can afford.

Lingerie

Here are some important guidelines to help you in buying lingerie for a woman.

Think About What She Likes

The first thing to remember is that it's important to buy her something that she will actually wear and won't be offended by.

If the woman you're buying lingerie for doesn't wear or approve of dominatrix lingerie, don't buy it for her. The same is true of costumes, like a French Maid costume

Ask her what she likes or notice what kind of lingerie she wears normally.

Some women do not like thongs, and will not wear them. Other women find see-through lingerie or mesh lingerie trashy.

Some women will find garter belts very sexy, while others will see them as slutty and wonder what kind of woman you want to sleep with.

Look at what she wears in her closet. Does she wear tight jeans with a tight t-shirt or tank top? If so, she may like a lingerie item that is a little tighter, that shows some skin.

If the clothes in her closet are looser and don't show much skin, she'll probably want something more modest.

One thing to remember though is that many women who dress more conservatively also like to have sexy underwear. It's hidden from the world but she knows it's there.

If you're not certain, a baby doll, camisole with matching panties, or a slip may be your best bet.

Look for items made from silk and satin that flow away from the body with minimal embellishment.

After you've bought her a couple of lingerie items, you'll be able to discover what she likes and what she hates.

You can also talk to her and ask her to look at catalogs or lingerie pictures online to help you know what she'll like or dislike.

Find out her Correct Size

This is one of the biggest mistake men make.

If you buy something that's too small she may feel flattered or she may feel fat.

If you buy something too big, she'll absolutely feel fat because she'll think you think she is fat.

Ask her what size she wears or go through her drawers to get an idea.

If you're still not certain what size she is, write down the sizes of what she has in her drawers and ask a lingerie saleswoman for help.

Finally, remember that if this is a spouse or if you've been living with this woman for a while, she may be very offended if you get her the wrong size.

Choose her Favorite Color

There are many colors in lingerie options and you may be uncertain which one to choose for your woman.

Ask her what her favorite color is. Look in her drawers and closet and see what colors she favors and what color her favorite blouse is.

If you're still uncertain, black is usually (though not always) a good way to go.

What about Lace, Ribbons and other Embellishments?

Some women like lingerie with tassels on their breasts, but most don't.

Some ribbon and lace on lingerie can be very tasteful, if you know what you're doing.

If you're uncertain, basic lingerie with minimal embellishment may be the best.

You can also ask a lingerie salesperson for help, though you should listen to your instincts over what the salesperson is saying.

Become Educated about the Kinds of Lingerie

Another tip to buying lingerie for women is to know what kind of lingerie there is, and what exactly you are buying.

Learn what a garter belt, baby doll and slip are.

Look online or read articles about the kinds of lingerie so you don't feel overwhelmed when you're actually shopping.

If you feel embarrassed or uncomfortable going into a lingerie store, shop for your girlfriend/spouse lingerie online. Victoria's Secret and Fredrick's of Hollywood offer great online selections.

In Conclusion

There are just two more hints to buying lingerie for women—and they address what to do if she doesn't like your gift.

Everyone makes mistakes, so it's important that you keep the receipt in case she wants to return it.

In addition, if she says she likes it, but doesn't wear it, she probably doesn't like it.

You can ask her what she doesn't like about it, or the next time you buy her lingerie, try buying her something different.

Chocolate

After diamonds, chocolate may well be a woman's best friend.

This means you need to select chocolate with care.

Chocolate is not all created equal and, in general, the higher the price the better the quality

Now that doesn't mean you should always buy the most expensive chocolate, just remember that high-quality chocolates contain larger amounts of cocoa butter and solids than lesser brands and that extra is what makes them cost more.

Selecting chocolate is really a sensory experience.

Start with your eyes and look at the chocolate. Does it have a glossy surface? Are there any blemishes? If it looks scarred or cloudy or off color then likely it is older and/or has been mishandled.

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

Now use your ears. Break the chocolate into pieces and listen for a nice clean, hard snap. If it doesn't have that snap, or it bends or, even worse, it crumbles, do not get it as it is either of low quality or it's old.

Now use your nose. Good chocolate will smell, well, chocolate-y. Warm the surface of it by rubbing your finger over it and smell it.

If the chocolate smell isn't strong or it smells like vanilla or other ingredients, it won't taste like chocolate. Don't buy chocolate that doesn't smell like chocolate.

If everything is good so far, finally, taste the chocolate.

Does it melt in your mouth or does it feel waxy?

If it too dense or too chewy?

Does it feel slippery sandy, or smooth?

In general, good quality chocolate has a velvety feel.

Follow the above to select quality, fresh chocolate and make sure you know if she likes it plain, with nuts, with soft centers or whatever, as mentioned above.

Then surprise her with it when she least expects it; enjoy her reaction!

Don't Forget Mom!

Let's not forget the mothers of the world.

While many of them don't want you to get them gifts they are secretly so happy when you do; so don't overlook the first woman in your life.

You want to make your mom feel special.

Get your mother a gift that is something special and personal to her, that is, something that with touch her heart; the more sentimental the gift the better.

Some quick ideas are keepsakes (preferably engraved), portraits of you, her grandchildren, or other close friends and family, even some custom jewelry will bring a tear to her eye.

You don't have to spend a lot of money or make it elaborate, just choose something simple and thoughtful and it will be appreciated.

For example, I found out that my mother was collecting those state quarters that have been released over the last few years so I went and got some mint condition ones in little plastic cases to protect them.

A Guy's Guide to Gifts for Her

Then, whenever I would visit, I'd leave one or two lying around where she would find them. She really appreciated the gesture and liked always having little surprise gifts.

Another thing that moms in particular like is those spa days.

Bottom line is that mothers are women and like and appreciate things that women do, just because she is your mother don't forget she is also a woman and treat her like you would treat other women.
